

Cascade Harvest Coalition

- Supporting Farmers
- Supporting Consumers
- Building Healthy Communities

The Cascade Harvest Coalition is a non-profit organization dedicated to building a strong regional food system in Washington. We work collaboratively with farmers, local governments, businesses, other non-profits and the public to address the critical issues of farm viability, farmland preservation, farmer education, farm product development and marketing, consumer education and community development. Our programs tackle current food and farming issues and develop strategies for creating a healthier, more sustainable food and farming future.

Puget Sound Fresh

Puget Sound Fresh is the Northwest's premier consumer education and local farm product branding program. The Puget Sound Fresh label is designed to:

- Help consumers identify the best locally produced food and farm products, and
- Help local farmers successfully market their products.

Look for the Puget Sound Fresh label at local grocery stores, farmers markets and restaurants. Can't find it? Ask for Puget Sound Fresh products to be carried where you shop and eat.

Looking for Local?

Make it easy: look for Puget Sound Fresh. Puget Sound Fresh means highest quality, best tasting, local farm products.

Puget Sound Fresh farms are located within the 12 Puget Sound counties and are known for excellent growing conditions, good stewardship practices and exceptional products.

Choose Puget Sound Fresh...discover the best local farm products.

To find out more about Puget Sound Fresh and local farms, visit www.pugetsoundfresh.org or call 206-632-0606.

Puget Sound Fresh is a program of Cascade Harvest Coalition with primary support from King County and King Conservation District, and additional help from Snohomish and Pierce Counties.
